Quiero una pizza contigo “kee-e-ro”	I want a pizza with you
Quiero una bebida contigo “kee-e-ro”	I want a drink with you

Make flashcards (I like these ones <https://amzn.to/32a7s2e>) and put them around the house, then use them to test yourself regularly. Try saying the sentences with feeling. Try to imagine different contexts. Could you say them in anger, in passion, in sadness or in excitement? Record yourself saying them and use the recording as your alarm tone, or as ring tones for different contacts in your address book.
