

Write your own Spanish book with 100 Days of Spanish

Día cuatro: The sound of the letter J

Chistoso = Funny. Draw a picture of cheese toast. Make it chistoso.

J makes a “h” sound. Draw a speech bubble next to your chistoso picture of cheese toast. Write “ja ja ja” in the speech bubble.

Draw un chimpancé. Draw una foca. Write “a a a” and “ha ha ha” next to them. H is silent. “a a a” and “ha ha ha” sound exactamente igual en español.

Orange = naranja. A norange became an orange. Norange. Naranja. Relajar = to relax. Relaxing = relajando. Remember, ja ja ja sounds like laughter en español.

Chistoso = funny. Un chiste = a joke. Can you make little illustrations for estos chistes.

Last night I had a dream that I was swimming en un oceano de naranja soda. I guess it was just a Fanta sea! Jajaja	Mi amigo says to me: “What rhymes with naranja?” I said: “No it doesn’t” Ja ja ja ja ja
Today I was going to relajjar, then I remembered. I am a mum! It was a nice thought. Ja ja ja.	A man and wife are relajando with una botella de vino. La señora says, “you know, I love you so much.” El señor asks, “is that you or el vino talking?” La señora responde, “it’s me, talking to el vino.” Ja ja ja ja ja
